2023 First Friday Ethics (May 2023) May 5, 2023 • STUDIO WEBCAST

Friday Morning, May 5, 2023

1.00 hr ethicsAs artificial intelligence tools like ChatGPT and others have entered the legal sphere, questions natural arise as to the extent to which AI can satisfactorily complete legal tasks. AI is being widely used for everything from legal research to the drafting of contracts snd pleadings to even assisting with jury selection. But can "robot lawyers" truly replace their human counterparts? This program examines not only the ways in which AI is impacting the legal profession, but also the multiple ethical dimensions of use - from our duty of tech competence to our duty to supervise non-lawyers. John G. Browning, Spencer Fane / Faulkner Law School - Plano, TX11:00 am10-Minute Break11:10 am 1.00 hr ethicsAttorney Wellness: Speaking Up, Reaching Out (REPLAY) Mental health issues are taboo discussions at the workplace, yet when attorneys consider suicide, it's often a result of work-related stress. Explore real-world tips and information on how to spot a mental health crisis in someone you work with, and what to do once you are aware of a problem. Stephanie Townsend Allala, Townsend Allala, Coulter & Kludt PLLC - El Paso, TX12:10 pm10-Minute Break12:20 pm 1.00 hr ethicsApproaches to Privilege During Deposition Breaks (REPLAY) In an age of Zoom depositions, it is more important than ever to understand that different jurisdictions take different approaches the question of privilege during deposition breaks, with some disallowing amproaches the question of privilege during deposition breaks, with some disallowing amproaches the question of privilege during deposition breaks, with some disallowing amproaches the question of privilege during deposition breaks, with some disallowing amproaches the question of privilege during deposition breaks, with some disallowing amproaches the question of privilege during deposition breaks,	1:20 pm	Presentations Conclude
1.00 hr ethicsAs artificial intelligence tools like ChatGPT and others have entered the legal sphere, questions natural arise as to the extent to which AI can satisfactrily complete legal tasks. AI is being widely used for everything from legal research to the drafting of contracts snd pleadings to even assisting with jury selection. But can "robot lawyers" truly replace their human counterparts? This program examines not only the ways in which AI is impacting the legal profession, but also the multiple ethical dimensions of use - from our duty of tech competence to our duty to supervise non-lawyers. John G. Browning, Spencer Fane / Faulkner Law School - Plano, TX11:00 am10-Minute Break11:10 am 1.00 hr ethicsAttorney Wellness: Speaking Up, Reaching Out (REPLAY) Mental health issues are taboo discussions at the workplace, yet when attorneys consider suicide, it's often a result of work-related stress. Explore real-world tips and information on how to spot a mental health crisis in someone you work with, and what to do once you are aware of a problem. Stephanie Townsend Allala, Townsend Allala, Coulter & Kludt PLLC - El Paso, TX		In an age of Zoom depositions, it is more important than ever to understand that different jurisdictions take different approaches the question of privilege during deposition breaks, with some disallowing any privilege at all once the deposition commences and others taking a more nuanced approach. Join Jason Boulette as he explores these different approaches, what they share in common, and where they differ sharply.
 1.00 hr ethics As artificial intelligence tools like ChatGPT and others have entered the legal sphere, questions natural arise as to the extent to which AI can satisfactorily complete legal tasks. AI is being widely used for everything from legal research to the drafting of contracts snd pleadings to even assisting with jury selection. But can "robot lawyers" truly replace their human counterparts? This program examines not only the ways in which AI is impacting the legal profession, but also the multiple ethical dimensions of use - from our duty of tech competence to our duty to supervise non-lawyers. John G. Browning, Spencer Fane / Faulkner Law School - Plano, TX 11:00 am 10-Minute Break Attorney Wellness: Speaking Up, Reaching Out (REPLAY) Mental health issues are taboo discussions at the workplace, yet when attorneys consider suicide, it's often a result of work-related stress. Explore real-world tips and information on how to spot a mental health crisis in someone you work with, and what to do once you are aware of a problem. 	12:10 pm	10-Minute Break
1.00 hr ethics As artificial intelligence tools like ChatGPT and others have entered the legal sphere, questions natural arise as to the extent to which AI can satisfactorily complete legal tasks. AI is being widely used for everything from legal research to the drafting of contracts snd pleadings to even assisting with jury selection. But can "robot lawyers" truly replace their human counterparts? This program examines not only the ways in which AI is impacting the legal profession, but also the multiple ethical dimensions of use - from our duty of tech competence to our duty to supervise non-lawyers. John G. Browning, Spencer Fane / Faulkner Law School - Plano, TX		Mental health issues are taboo discussions at the workplace, yet when attorneys consider suicide, it's often a result of work-related stress. Explore real-world tips and information on how to spot a mental health crisis in someone you work with, and what to do once you are aware of a problem.
1.00 hr ethics As artificial intelligence tools like ChatGPT and others have entered the legal sphere, questions natural arise as to the extent to which AI can satisfactorily complete legal tasks. AI is being widely used for everything from legal research to the drafting of contracts snd pleadings to even assisting with jury selection. But can "robot lawyers" truly replace their human counterparts? This program examines not only the ways in which AI is impacting the legal profession, but also the multiple ethical dimensions of use - from our duty of tech competence to our duty to supervise non-lawyers.	11:00 am	10-Minute Break
10:00 am Will Robot Lawyers Steal Our Jobs, and Can They do the Job Ethically?	1.00 hr ethics	As artificial intelligence tools like ChatGPT and others have entered the legal sphere, questions naturally arise as to the extent to which AI can satisfactorily complete legal tasks. AI is being widely used for everything from legal research to the drafting of contracts snd pleadings to even assisting with jury selection. But can "robot lawyers" truly replace their human counterparts? This program examines not only the ways in which AI is impacting the legal profession, but also the multiple ethical dimensions of AI use - from our duty of tech competence to our duty to supervise non-lawyers.